Philippe CAPRON

Background

Philippe Capron began his career at the Inspection Générale des Finances (1985-1989).

In 1990, he was Chief Executive Officer of the Duménil Leblé bank, before becoming a partner of the strategic consultancy Bain & Company from 1992 to 1994.

He subsequently held a number of central and operational positions in various sectors, including CFO of Usinor, Chairman of Arcelor Packaging and Euler-SFAC (credit insurance).

He was CFO of Veolia from 2014 to 2018, having previously held the same position at Vivendi (2007-2013) and Arcelor (2006).

He has also served on the boards of companies operating in more than a dozen countries and on five continents. These include Universal Music Group, Canal +, SFR, GVT (Brazil), NBC Universal and Transdev, as well as listed companies such as Maroc Telecom, Virbac and ActivisionBlizzard.

He is currently partner at Perella Weinberg Partners, an investment banking firm (advisory services).

Philippe Capron is a graduate of HEC, Sciences-Po and ENA.
